

REBEKAHS ELECT STATE OFFICERS AT MEETING TODAY

Owensboro Woman Is Chosen President—Maysville Woman Is Elected as Treasurer—Successful Year Reviewed.

After reading reports from the 89 Rebekah lodges in the state of Kentucky showing one of the most successful years in the history of the order, the State Rebekah Assembly which has been in session at DeKalb hall for the past two days, will close this evening with the public installation of the new officers which were elected this morning.

The election of officers held this morning resulted as follows:

President—Mrs. Maude Sourbeer, of Owensboro, Ky.
Vice President—Mrs. Anna Stein, of Ft. Thomas.
Warden—Mrs. Arab Denker, Paducah.
Secretary—Mrs. Anna Briel, Newport.
Treasurer—Mrs. Margaret Schwartz Maysville.

The various reports show that during the year just closed there has been a net gain of 600 in the membership of the 89 local lodges, which is said by officials to be the best showing made in a half century.

The Endowment Fund committee reported today that more than $6,000 had been pledged toward the Odd Fellows' Endowment Fund for the State Odd Fellows' Home at Lexington. The Rebekahs pledged to raise $10,000 toward the Oddfellows' fund and in their first year they have raised more than half of that amount. This greatly pleased all officials who say they will raise much more than the $10,000 pledged.

A plea was made today before the assembly for the Rebekah home for old Oddfellows and Rebekahs at Eminence, Ky., and in a short time $500 was raised among the delegates with little effort.

Mrs. Anna Briel, the secretary, stated at noon today that two-thirds of the lodges in Kentucky were represented at the meeting here. The appointive officers will be named by the new President this evening when she is installed in her office. This installation will be a public affair to which everyone is invited and the Maysville Boys' Band will make the music.

The next place of meeting for 1921 will be decided tonight after the new officers have been installed.

MR. ERNST RAN AHEAD OF TICKET IN THIS COUNTY

Republican Candidate for U. S. Senator Picks Up 44 Votes in Mason's Official Count—National Ticket Loses 5 Votes in Majority.

Mason county's board of Election Commissioners met at the County Clerk's office this morning to tabulate the vote and certify the same. There was little change in the unofficial vote as was carried in yesterday's issue of the Public Ledger so far as the presidential race was concerned. The Democrats losing five votes as between the official and the unofficial vote. The official vote in the presidential race as certified by the County Commissioners is:

Harding 3473

Democratic majority 948
Unofficial majority 953

The greatest difference was shown in the race for United States Senator. Richard P. Ernst, the Republican candidate for Senator, ran ahead of the national ticket in Mason county gaining 44 votes from unofficial figures upon which State Democratic headquarters have been figuring. The entire vote was not counted when telegrams were sent out Tuesday evening and the Senatorial and the Congressional race were figured at the same as the presidential race. The official figures, however, show that Ernst ran 39 votes ahead of Harding in county and with the loss of the Democrats as between the unofficial and the official count, he gained 5 more votes making a total gain of 44 votes. The official count in the Senatorial race is:

Beckham 4663
Ernst 3754

Beckham's majority 909
Unofficial majority 953

Judge Blair, the Republican candidate for Congress, also shows a gain of 12 votes as between the official and the unofficial figures. Congressman Fields ran 9 votes behind Cox, while Judge Blair ran 4 votes behind Senator Harding. The official vote in the Congressional race is:

Fields 4630
Blair 3739

SUIT FOR DAMAGE AND INJUNCTION IS FILED

Passageway Has Been Blocked By Neighbors Says Plaintiff In Suit Asking $2,000 Damage.

Suit was brought in the Mason Circuit Court this afternoon by Messrs. W. S. Osborne and Walter Turner against David Yates, Nannie Bacon and Mattie Burgess. The plaintiffs charge that the defendants have closed an easement or passageway which they contend is to be kept open for their joint use.

This passageway leads to the Minerva pike and the plaintiffs charge that the defendants have obstructed it and rendered it impassable by means of fences and locked gates and they charge that the defendants have ejected and kept out of the passageway and threatened to keep the family of the plaintiff Walter Turner, who is the tenant living on the Osborne farm, from the use of the easement which is the most direct and necessary route for the Turner children to use on their way to school.

The plaintiffs charge that if not restrained by law, the defendants will continue to trespass and that even violence has been threatened. They ask judgment for $1500 each, or a total of $3,000 from the defendants and that they be enjoined and restrained from obstructing the passageway.

CONGRATULATIONS FROM REV. HOWE.

The Public Ledger this morning received this card from Rev. T. B. Howe the Fleming county minister who after predicting Ohio would give Cox a majority of 100,000 fainted on the spot here Monday:

Popular Plains, Ky., Nov. 3, 1920.
"Dear Sir and Bro.—The morning after, The whole thing has fainted as well as Rev. Howe, and the Rooster is sick. The Great Principle Still Alive. Congratulations to you. Kindly send me a copy or two of November 1 edition, and oblige, Yours Truly,
"T. B. HOWE."

TOMBSTONE ERECTED FOR "JIMMY" COX.

Some youngsters in the East End have provided many hearty laughs for those using East Second street. In front of the Fifth ward polling place there has been erected a large piece of concrete which at some time has been torn out of a sidewalk. Upon the stone has been printed in chalk: "Here Lies Cox—Died Tuesday at the Polls." Arrows drawn with chalk on the sidewalk call the passersby to the tombstone.

ERNST'S ELECTION IN STATE IS CERTAIN, LATE FIGURES SHOW

Considerable Question As To Whether Cox Will Get Kentucky's Electoral Vote Late Returns From the Mountains Are Showing.

Chester H. Searey, chairman of the Kentucky Republican Campaign committee, at Republican state headquarters in Louisville this morning issued this statement:

"The Republican party has carried Kentucky; Harding's majority will be 7,000, and Ernst unquestionably elected by at least 15,000. Figures given by the Democratic press, upon which the Democratic majorities are claimed, are misleading and incorrect."

Mr. Searey declared that the Democrats have understated Republican majorities in Knox, Letcher, Harlan, McCreary and Magoffin counties by 7,338. He says that they have overestimated Democratic majorities by thousands of votes in many Democratic counties.

Mr. Ernst, who is at his home in Covington, received messages from all parts of Kentucky, assuring him that he has been elected United States Senator to succeed J. C. W. Beckham. Republican managers informed Mr. Ernst by long-distance telephone that he carried the Eleventh Kentucky district by more than 40,000 majority.

Late returns continue to decrease Senator Beckham's lead over Mr. Ernst. The vote in 2,335 out of 3,226 precincts in the state gave Ernst 419,282, and Beckham 433,328. Returns from 3,075 precincts gave Cox 446,823

WOOD WORK ABOUT TO BE COMPLETED FOR FAIR

Great Stage and Band Stand Is Now Built at Liberty Warehouse and all Work Will Soon Be Completed.

Carpenters who have been at work at the Liberty warehouse building booths and other interior structures for the past two weeks, today completed the large stage in the center of the building for the vaudeville acts and the large band stand will be occupied by the Maysville Boys' Band all during the fair week. It is figured that all of the carpenter work will be completed by Friday evening.

At a meeting of the managing committee of the fair to be held at the Chamber of Commerce this evening at 7 o'clock it is expected that all arrangements will be completed for the drawing of the booth locations. It is the plan of the managing committee to have all booth holders to meet and at a drawing to determine just where they will be located.

There will be several booths operated by the fair management and at these booths High School girls and boys will be in charge. Arrangements for these will also likely be made at tonight's meeting.

votes against 428,661 for Harding. Returns from the mountain counties are slow coming in, but several counties reported unofficially that Republicans had obtained majorities. An official count it was stated, probably will be required to determine who won.

The Louisville Herald published a story Thursday morning stating that Ernst had been elected U. S. Senator.

HARDING'S LEAD SWELLS AS LATE RETURNS ARE IN

Solid South Broken and Republicans Are Given Working Majorities in Both House and Senate to Back Republican President.

Tennessee has swung into the swelling Republican columns, shattering the Democratic "Solid South." Her shift from the Democratic ranks coupled with a similar upset in Oklahoma, reported late last night, assures Warren G. Harding of 390 electoral votes as against 127 definitely in the James M. Cox column, and left in doubt but 14 seats in the electoral college, divided among Arizona (2); Nevada (3); New Mexico (3), and North Dakota (5). In all of these states save in New Mexico, Harding was in the lead on available returns and even in New Mexico Republican managers were claiming a Harding plurality, though available returns showed a Cox lead.

The Republicans have secured 257 seats in the House of Representatives to 132 for the Democrats. Four seats went to miscellaneous, including one Socialist and one Prohibitionist. Forty-two districts were unreported. On present returns the Republicans had a plurality of 131.

OUR POLICY

To support such measures as are unquestionably for the good of Mason County as an entire community, rather than such propositions as are in favor of the individual interest, or of one section as against another. And likewise to earnestly and consistently oppose all things that are not for the good of the County as a whole.

GETTING BACK TO BUSINESS.

Back to business is the unquestioned slogan of the hour. For however unconscious we may be of the fact, it is a fact that more or less we have been neglecting the current of commercial currents. However, there is justification for it. We have indeed not been altogether indifferent to business, for we have been somewhat intent in arranging a readjustment of the affairs of the nation. That to be sure is a matter that ought not be neglected. But that is now delegated by authority of the people to trustees for a term of years and we severely turn our attention the more explicitly to affairs of industry, finance, commerce, in short that which we bunched under the altogether comprehensive term of business. For while economies have not been altogether suspended they have been in a measure neglected. Now we proceed to make up for lost time.

Business! What a magical word it is and how all-comprehending in matters material. It touches all lives, reaches into all homes, affects all classes, comprehends every avenue of human material existence. It is of the individual life, the community, all political subdivisions from county to city, to state, to nation, a something vital. Aye, it belts the globe, consolidates world and latches all peoples as a corporation unlimited in its articles of incorporation. It furnishes a common greeting to mankind and links the nations of all lands into economic union even as it divides them all into separate rivalries. How's business? Perfunctorily we ask it as a matter of custom. Yet back of the perfunctoriness is an inherent, intensive interest not infrequently a subconscious anxiety. For business in its generic sense—all-inclusive, wholly comprehending—is the vital element of material life. That which interrupts its smooth functioning, just in proportion to its extent, affects all society.

So being creatures of the earth earthly, primarily concerned with when do we eat and what do we drink and wherewithal shall we be clothed, business necessarily is a dominant factor in human existence. Somehow we feel that if business goes well all is well. And somehow we return with something of relief to the daily task of contribution and consumption of the so-called necessities of life, speeding up our part of the program of production, adaptation and consumption of life's commodities in a spirit of doing something worth while, indeed vital, in the economy of life. And it is worth while. But while we address ourselves to things material it is perhaps more important than we all may realize that we have an ever-present consciousness, an inspiring conviction that while giving due attention to the practical it is vital that we do not neglect the equally essential ideal.

THE KINGLESS CROWN OF GREECE.

Our little friend Greece, which is not so little since the expansive growth resultant from her war activities, is having trouble getting some suitable person to serve as King. That is a healthy sign. Kings are very much out of fashion these days and the job is much less desirable than in days of old when knights were bold and titled aristocracy embroidered life with fine feathers and fine airs and the attractive stories of the day all had to do with Princesses and Princes and other largely ornamental and not especially useful personalities. The situation is as in many other matters. Those who are available are not desirable and those who are desirable are not seeking the job.

Truth is that the day of the monarch wanes rapidly. For their hardness of heart some nations yet have them inflicted on the body politic. In others conservatism makes the people cling to old customs and hold fast to habits of national life even in the midst of conviction that a King has become of no greater importance than to serve as figurehead at stately functions and furnish a foil for political manipulation. Fortunately for Greece the matter can do doubt be arranged without great difficulty and with no reason to resort to revolution, some one will be found who will serve as the ornamental head of the government in the end and, if Greece is wise, Premier Venizelos will be retained as the real master of Greek government. For with the wisdom and integrity of a Venizelos at the helm neither Greece nor any nation has need for a King.

JOFFRE SHINES THE SPOTLIGHT.

(From the Continental Edition of the London Daily Mail.)

Alexandre is just a humble writer at a bourgeois restaurant near the Porte Saint Denis, Paris, but every evening, Alexandre reserves a table overlooking the busy street and guards it a dozen times against intrusion with the proud remark, almost a command:

"Not here, sir. This is the table of Marshal Joffre."

For it is here Marshal Joffre dined while Mme. Joffre is away in the country. Lying quietly, the victor of the Marne, after his day's work strolls up from the Boulevard des Invalides through the Rue Royale and the Grand Boulevards to this modest restaurant.

Alexandre knows his habits. The marshal takes neither wine, liquors nor coffee, nor can the most succulent beefsteak tempt him from his evening vegetarian diet, and Marshal Joffre is most at ease who none other recognizes the man with the white moustache at the little table by the window.

HE SAID IT WITH FLOWERS.

Wubach, Ind.—C. E. Dittmer, editor of a local newspaper, was hurrying to his office the other day when he glanced at the windows of a local flower shop and saw the sign, "Say It With Flowers."

"Great," he thought to himself and rushed into the building.

"Send some flowers up to my house," he told the florist.

"How about a nice spray?" the florist asked.

"Good, send it right up," the editor said.

When the work of the day was over the editor hurried home to celebrate his wedding anniversary. His wife stared at him.

"It may be a joke, but I do not appreciate it," she said.

The editor was puzzled. He had not tried to be funny. Then he looked around for the joke and found it. It was a "nice spray," bound with a black ribbon to which was attached a black rimmed mourning card. The florist had misunderstood the occasion.

"My kidneys were out of order and I had pains through my back. Doan's Kidney Pills put an entire stop to the pains and my kidney became well."

Experience has taught us that Tobacco handled properly in the barn and GRADED there always makes the most satisfactory sales.

As Warehousemen we have an interest in the Grower and want tobacco to sell as high as possible, therefore we have decided to DISCONTINUE THE WAREHOUSE SORTING and request all to KEEP THE DIFFERENT GRADES SEPARATED, and mark on the wagon with Tobacco Stalks, Corn Stalks, or Paper, so that it can go directly on the basket without the formality of passing over a bench and scattered over the Warehouse floor.

This method is used by the largest market in the state, and we feel that with the co-operation of all Growers in this territory the results will justify the change.

VALLEY OF 10,000 SMOKE.

One of the world's greatest and least known of natural wonder is the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes near Mount Katmai in Alaska, a brief description of which is given in the Century by Andrew J. Stone. The valley is a volcanic depression, from which steaming and smoking gas and lava jets leap into the air by the thousands, some of them no larger than a pencil.

Sulphur flowers of every known color and tint have been scattered by the unrest of the internal fires along the valley walls and floors, until looking at it from a distance it seems one vast welter of paint from a hundred tubes mixed by a mad artist with only a suggestion of a theme. With care one may walk about and mingle with the pools and sprouts, and watch with marvelling eyes streams of boiling water rush into tiny lakes from one direction, while cold streams carrying floating ice rush in from another, and where the one small body of water carries every degree of heat from freezing up to 212 degrees Fahrenheit.

THE GYPSIES OF RUMANIA.

Bucharest.—Of the dozens of different people in Rumania, none is more picturesque than the Gypsies. Like their prototype in America, they rove the country in great caravans, earning stray pennies by begging, dancing, playing music and telling fortunes. In the cities they sometimes earn their "bread and onions" by shining shoes, peddling lemonade or acting as porters.

The high cost of living which has drawn tight the strings of every purse has brought double hardships to these wanderers. No matter how well they play their violins, no matter what good fortune they see in the stars for those about them, they find it hard to coax pennies from the empty pockets of the war-oppressed Rumanian people. Many of them have starved to death.

Among the gypsy women and girls are to be found some striking types of beauty. Dark of complexion and hair, with shining, long-lashed black eyes, they are delightful to look upon. They have not yet acquired the art of using cosmetics as their sisters in the United States do.

Superstition plays a large part in the life of the gypsy. One of the many ancient customs which still survives among the women is to beat themselves frightfully if one of their children dies. They believe the death has been caused by an evil spirit having entered the body of child as well as of mother and that if they chastise themselves the spirit will depart.

One Rumanian gypsy woman whom an American relief worker visited was apparently about to die from pneumonia. The doctor found numerous bruises all over her chest, and these had seriously aggravated her condition. On questioning he learned that her bruises were due to a beating she had given herself because one of her eight children had died.

Judge Emily Murphy of Edmonton, Alberta, the first woman magistrate in the British Empire, is president of the Canadian Women's Press Clubs and also of the Federation of Women's Institutes in Canada.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound

CLEAR THE THROAT of phlegm and mucus, stops that tickling, opens the air passages for easier breathing and coats the raw, inflamed surfaces with a healing, soothing medicine.

Grateful Father Tells What It Did
W. E. Curry, 130 Up 8th St., Evansville, Ind., writes: "I have a little girl 6 years who has a good deal of trouble with croup. I have used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound, giving it to her according to directions, and obtaining instant relief for her. My wife and I use it whenever bothered with a bad cold or cough, and I will say that it is the best remedy for a bad cold, cough, throat trouble or croup that I ever saw."

Parents who use Foley's Honey and Tar know it is safe and no harm will come even if an overdose should be given by accident. It tastes good and children like it. It won't upset the delicate stomachs of young children, delicate persons or elderly people.

"The Wires are Already There—"

Sometimes, when folks order a telephone, they say: "It won't take you but a few minutes to install it, because the wires are already on the house."

BUT—

The circuit from the house all the way to the telephone exchange is the one that really counts—

That circuit is released—used for some other subscribers—when a telephone is removed.

Another must be built up for you before your telephone can be installed, and that takes time and work—

That is why it takes longer than "just a few minutes" to install a telephone—because there is a great deal more to do than simply to fasten the instrument on your wall!

FARM TENANCY INCREASING.

Farm tenancy instead of ownership is on the increase to an alarming degree in certain sections of the South. In Mississippi 66.1 per cent. of the farmers of the state are tenants, instead of owners; in Georgia 55.6 per cent. In South Carolina the percentage is 62.

According to the monthly bulletin of the University of South Carolina, 65.7 per cent. of the land in that state is now lying idle. Land owners in that state operate a greater percentage of all farm lands than do tenants, but the tenants operate a greater percentage of the improved lands than do owners.

Some of the conclusions reached in the South Carolina bulletin are: "Over twice as many of the tenant farms of the state are operated by negroes as are operated by whites."

"Negro owners operate a little over one-tenth of all the farms in the state, and slightly less than one-third of all the farms operated by owners."

"Farm mortgages have been steadily increasing in South Carolina, having tripled in twenty years." — New York Times.

SCHOOLS DOWN-NATE LANDSCAPE.

(Robertson Scott in Asia.)

The dominating man-made feature of the Japanese landscape is not, as in the usual European landscape, the "great house" of the bluest blooded or the richest man, for such a building is far to seek in a countryside where so many folk are on practically the same level of material well-being, and it is much less frequently than might be supposed a temple or shrine.

Where the picture that the eye catches is not the vast expanse of the crops of the plain or the marvels of terracing for hillside crops, it is the long, low school building, set almost invariably on the best possible site. Some western peoples may learn from rural Japan the wisdom of having large, well equipped rural schools and not the multitude of trumpery school-houses which in so many Western villages hinder education.

In this part of the world emigration is a feature of rural life. I found that a considerable number of people went to S. U. America. There had also been departures for Hokkaido, Korea and Formosa. The view was expressed that the principal need of the villages was money to meet the current rate of interest, which was 20 per cent.

LIVING TO BE 100.

Real centenarians seldom have striven to be such. But aspirants to that class are always full of anxiety lest they break self-imposed rules and generally contemptuous of the other fellow's whims. Two such men who once resided in Toronto used to amuse their friends by their criticisms of each other. One argued that his acquaintance could not possibly live to be 100 years old because he drank only one glass of water instead of two on rising. The other was equally positive about his rival. "He hasn't got a chance," he was wont to say. "Why? Because he uses salt on his potatoes. I've seen him doing it." Both died before they were sixty years old. Longevity isn't everything. Trying to live cleanly and do good is better than striving to find a formula for 100 years of tenancy on earth. — Toronto Globe.

MADE PA NERVOUS.

Two charming sisters are engaged to two brothers, and their neighbors have been greatly interested in this dual love affair. The young girls live in the second flat of a house on the south side of the street, and the other way the elder sister was stopped in the street by the young son of the family who occupy the second flat in the house opposite.

"Oh, Miss Miggins," said the boy, "My papa said last night that someone ought to tell you to pull down the blinds, 'cause if love is blind, the neighbors are not!"

TOO MANY CURVES.

A Yorkshire man who was very bowlegged, entered a tailor's shop to be measured for a pair of trousers.

He selected the cloth, and the tailor proceeded to measure him. When he passed the tape down the "bow" of the leg, the customer tapped him on the arm and said:

"Owd on mate; thee mak' 'em on the square."

PROMPTLY REWARDED.

(Edinburgh Scotsman.)

A few miles from Dublin there lives a worthy who can never pass the village public house without "calling in just to inquire the time."

One night recently he made up his mind to pass by. It was very hard for him to stand still and said, "Stand firm resolution—stand firm."

After a hard struggle he gained a little bridge beyond the public house and stopping again, was heard to say: "Begorra, me bould resolution, but yo did stand firm, and for that same resolution I'll go back and trate ye."

COMMONER CONTENDS THAT DISASTER WAS INEVITABLE

William Jennings Bryan Blames President Wilson for the Great Land Slide to Republicanism.

Lincoln, Neb., November 4.—Democratic disaster was inevitable because of the position of President Wilson on the League of Nations, declared William Jennings Bryan in an election statement issued here late today. He said:

"The President erected the foundations for the disaster and Governor James M. Cox completed the structure. The President tried to drive out of public life every Democrat who dared to differ from him, even in minute details, while he made no effort to strengthen the Democrats who made him the keeper of their consciences."

Bryan asserted that the people were compelled to choose between presidential infallibility and "respect of the opinion of the majority of the Senate."

"Now that our participation will rest upon the will of Congress and not on the arbitrary opinion of a single man," he continued, "we may expect that a universal disarmament will be made one of the conditions upon which we attempt to advise."

"The country will expect Mr. Harding to carry out his pledge to advance the cause of world peace and there is no reason to doubt that he will do so."

CHAMP CLARK IS DEFEATED.

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—Champ Clark, Bowling Green, Mo., veteran and former Speaker of the House of Representatives to which he has been elected more times than the average eoter can remember, last night surrendered his post of honor to T. W. Hukreide, Warrenton, Mo., young Republican candidate in the Ninth Missouri District.

Facing a landslide of 5,000 votes with five-sixths of the precincts in his district in — including Democratic strongholds—Mr. Clark sent a telegram to Mr. Hukreide congratulating the Republican "on his victory."

Whitesburg, Ky., November 3.—Fess Whitaker, Jailor, has carried Letcher county for the office of County Judge over Stevens Combs, Jr., by 500 majority, although the returns are incomplete. His election closed one of the most interesting campaigns in the history of the county. Whitaker, a prisoner in his own jail, conducted his campaign against odds, but returns indicate that he would carry the county by an unusually large majority.

PLANS FOR BOOSTER TRIP WILL BE MADE AT TONIGHT'S MEET

Committee and Those Interested in Big Trip Throughout This Section Will Meet at Chamber of Commerce This Evening.

A meeting of the canning committee of the 1920 Corn and Tobacco Fair has been called for this evening at 7 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce and those who are interested in the proposed booster trip throughout North-Eastern Kentucky and Southern Ohio in the interest of the fair have been invited.

It is expected that at this meeting this evening all details of the proposed trip will be worked out so that announcement can be sent over the territory to be visited in order that they can expect the boosters. This suggestion of a booster trip has met with more approval from the local business men than anything yet suggested in connection with the advertising of the fair. Many have already offered their automobiles for the trip and there is no doubt but that it will be a great success.

Whether it will be best to take all the machines on a trip for several days or whether it will be best to divide the machines into groups and let them visit different sections on the same day, is a question to be debated at tonight's meeting and other important details of the proposed trip will also come up for discussion.

The advertising matter for the fair is now all ready for distribution. The catalogues came from the press today and can now be obtained either at the Chamber of Commerce, any of the local newspaper offices or most of the local stores and shops. Everyone interested in entering any of the departments of the fair are urged to procure a catalogue and become thoroughly acquainted with the rules of the show.
